

Textbook Codes:

- Many courses use companion websites. Most of these sites have a code that is purchased with the textbook. The bookstore does sell some codes without the textbook. For assistance on registration of the software, you should follow the instructions that come with the code or call the companion company's help line.